

THE ANCIENT SECRET OF THE HEXAGRAM

WE ARE NOT ALONE, BECAUSE WE HAVE BEEN VISITED IN THE PAST.
FINALLY, WE HAVE THE KNOWLEDGE ALLOWING US TO READ AND TO UNDERSTAND THE MESSAGE, WHICH OUR ANCESTORS HAVE PRESERVED FOR US.

I will start my explanation with one interesting question: What will be the simplest message if we, the humans, would like to pass a message to another intelligent society of the Universe? - Just message, that we exist and we are intelligent?

To send pictures, books, or written explanations will be meaningless to other civilizations because they could have a very different way of information, and probably they will not be able to decode anything, which is written or need special devices the information we are sending to be read. It is obvious that we have to send them something very simple, common, basic, and well-known to every intelligent civilization. The most appropriate form will be to be in the form of a simple graphic, without text, numbers, or pictures. For example, even the two images below could be difficult to understand from another intelligent society.

I will give you an example, of how messy is our first interstellar message - The graphic on the left is the "Pioneer Plaque" sent in space and representing our position in Milky Way using the allegedly "known" distance to some Pulsars. The problem is there, where we have found that the light red-shift measurement does not represent the rate of retreating and distance. Edwin Hubble, who became famous and is instrumental in this method of measuring distance, wrote a letter to the US Astronomical Society to denounce it, but this time he was ignored. The famous astronomer Halton Arp has reported, that a Quasar in close proximity to the galaxy and physically attached to it, according to the light red-shift measurement is: that these two attached to each other objects have to be two billion light-years distance of each other, which is not the case! For reporting, this has cost him his job and denied access to any US telescope. He was banned from teaching astronomy and having a job in the US. So... it is obvious that we are giving an incorrect position of our Solar system! The second problem with Pulsars is that their pulsating beam is visible only in a very narrow section of the sky - they are visible only if the observer is in the exact path of the narrow beam. (See the image below)

Image of Pulsar and its narrow beam

Next problem: the two small circles on top of the plague are supposed to represent the Hydrogen atom state of transmission to indicate the length of time we are using. It's OK, but where is the indication, or explanation, that these circles are the Hydrogen atoms? With circles, you can represent a thousand different things! How really the Hydrogen atom should be represented, you can see in the image two pages below.

This way of drawing is a clear example of unnecessarily complicated, incorrect, and difficult or impossible to interpret a message! It shows clearly that we are not intelligent enough to create even a simple drawing, to give our correct position, and to explain who we are. Or... in short, we declare that we have some technical capability, but we are obviously dumb!

Such a message should be just a simple graphical representation of something well-known to everybody. It has to be correct, simple, and fundamental. Your ability to send, and construct such a message will revile your knowledge, your intelligence, and your capability! The fact that you are sending a physical message indicates, that your society is still on the primitive stage of development, and has not yet mastered instant quantum communication.

There will be no more appropriate symbol of the basic (or the fundamental) diagram representing the fundamental elements of the Universe. - Such graphics will be well known and will be easy to understand by every advanced intelligent society.

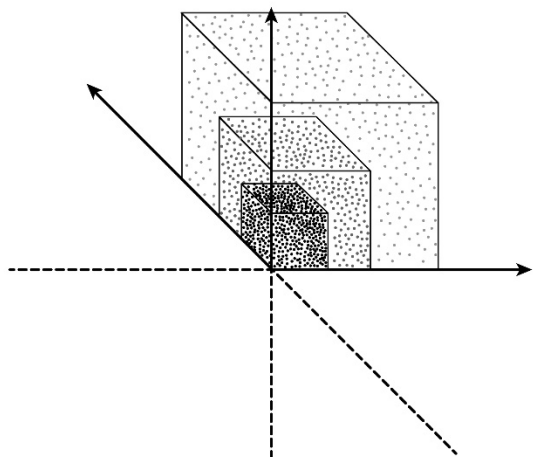

Our current problem is there, where we still don't know how to produce, how to recognize, or how to read such a graphical representation of the Universe because our understanding of the fundamental elements of the Universe is insufficient and is totally wrong! The truth for the understanding of our Universe is hidden behind the curtain of the established scientific dogma. This dogma is forcing us to accept the weird medieval concept of the Big Bang and the nonsense of the two officially recognized theories - The Theory of Relativity and Quantum Mechanics which conflict with each other and produce absurd results and values as infinities, mass-less particles, and non-existing "invisible" cosmological substances. Currently, this nonsense is very well funded and is promoted as a "triumph of our intelligence"! - This is the reason why we still do not have an even basic understanding of the fundamental elements of our World. Without fundamental knowledge, we cannot produce or understand even the simple formula, or a simple drawing of the Universe even if extraterrestrial intelligence is sending us such a drawing.

I am happy to inform you, that the time of promoted nonsense is ending, and we finally have the scientific theory, which is explaining these vital aspects of the fundamental elements, forces, and interactions of our Universe. This is the so-called - "Theory of Everything" produced in 2017 by the author of this article - Valentin Malinov.

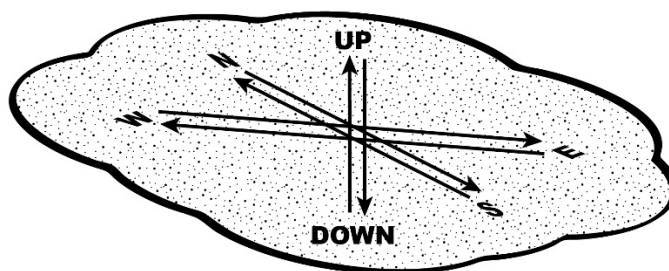

The new theory of the Universe explains in easy and plain language the basic fundamental elements and interactions of our Universe. Such as Space, Time, Matter, Gravity, Electromagnetism, and how the Universe works.

The fatal flaw of the current view that Space is Three Dimensional is lying there, where all of the mainstream "scientists" are not realizing, that they are putting the reference point outside of the considered volume of space - (in the corner of the box). The problem is there that in space are no corners, but we are inside - in the middle of the Space, and the minimum number of dimensions capable of forming and defining each point of space is Six Dimensions! - East, West, North, South, Up, and Down. On the diagram below is visible, that three dimensions can produce only 1/8 of the total volume of Space. From the diagram below, getting clear where all the matter in the Universe is coming from! - It is a result of the cancellation of the opposing directional momentum of the space dimensions. The new understanding is that Space is formed of Six Single Dimensions, which is representing the Six well-known World directions: East, West, North, South, Up, and Down. This new understanding of the fundamental elements of space is explaining, that Space is formed by two sets of (3) opposite directionally oriented dimensions because East, North and Up having opposite directions to the other three dimensions: West, South, and Down. (See the graph on the right)

Three dimensions can define only 1/8 of the volume of space.

The single space dimensions are incorporated with each other and are producing the uniform space of our Universe. The understanding that a single space dimension is just a vector gives us the knowledge, that three incorporate with each other space dimensions can be represented as a triangle. So... space can be represented as two triangles incorporated with each other and having opposite directions! (See below)

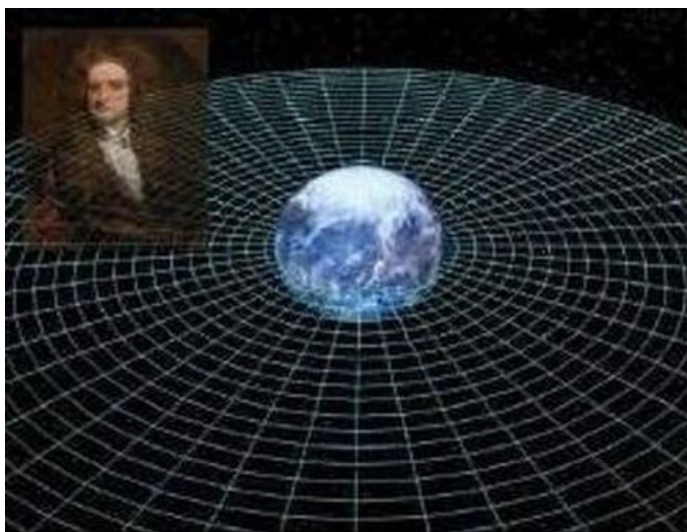

Three incorporated dimensions where each side of the triangle is representing a vector of a single-dimension

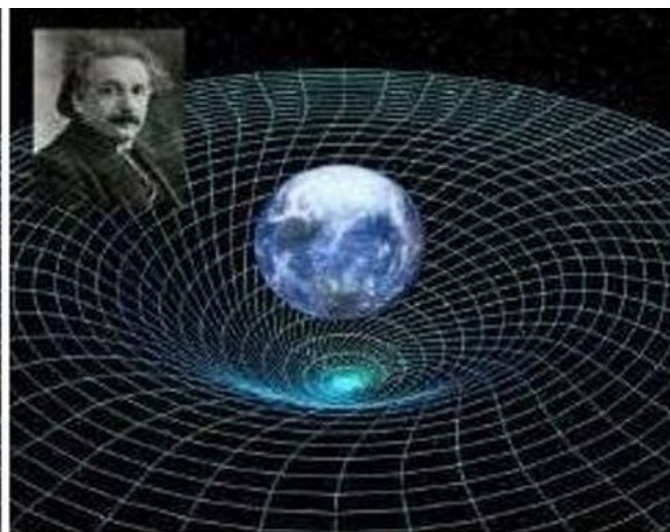

The two sets of (3) opposing each other dimensions

When we are talking about "the fabric of space," we have the idea that the space dimensions are incorporated as woven fabric.

Newton's fixed space

Einstein's flexible space-time

The two images above are a simple representation of the "fabric of space." Exactly this is represented in the structure of the Hexagram, where the sides of the two triangles are "woven" into each other. The direction of triangles is representing the universal symbol of direction - (Up and Down). - See the diagrams below.

The two triangles (set of 3) opposing each other space directions are incorporated exactly as woven fabric and are perfect an unmistakable symbol of our six-dimensional space!

The structural form of matter provided by the "Theory of Everything" explains that the "planetary model" is the base of all material structures of the Universe. The elementary particles, when existing in "solid" form, can be represented with center bulb, surrounded by a circle of the standing waves. We can see this universal pattern in the microscopic world, planetary system, and galactic formations. It is obvious that this is the common basic graphical representation of Matter! - See the images below - section "A."

We already have discussed what is the simple graphical representation of space dimensions and matter. They are the images "A," "B," and "C." Those images are the simplest graphical representations of the fundamental elements of our Universe - Space, and Matter. This graphical representation of the Universe will be clear and easy to understand by any intelligent society, having a correct understanding of the physical properties of the Universe.

And surprisingly, when the simple graphical representation of the Universe is complete - (Diagram "D"), we had in front of us the most common and widespread Religious Symbol on Earth! - The Hexagram!

The image of the Hexagram is originated and found everywhere in the deepest layers of human history and many different religions. - The first images of the Hexagram we have from about 10,000 years BC.

The carved-in-stone images of Hexagram we found in Lebanon, 10,000BC, Egypt, 10,000BC, Sumerian tablets, Baalbek temple, Cyprus, 5,000BC, Mayan stone carvings, in Kurdistan, Tibetan coins, Mongolian coins, Moroccan coins, and is all around in Catholic and Orthodox Churches and Cathedrals. The symbol of Hexagram is a very important symbol for Vedic religion - (Shatkona), in Hinduism, and Buddhism.

The Hexagram is regarded by the ancient religion as a cosmological diagram or symbol of creation. The appearance of the same symbol all around the World, representing the creation of the Universe cannot be co-incident. To be regarded as one of the most important symbols of all religions, this symbol must have its real and common origin! And the origin we can find in many ancient texts and stone carvings. Surprisingly, the ancient texts insist, that the hexagram is given by the "Gods" who have descended from the sky and have given humanity vital knowledge. It can be an accident that the number seven is regarded as a holy number by many religions. It can be an accident also, that even the Bible states that God has created the Universe in seven days? We are following this revelation and our week also is constructed of seven days. Same as the Universal structure: - Six dimensions and the Time (for rest?)

I am not going into mysticism; I am just following the facts, regardless of whether you like them or not.

Sumerian stone carvings, revealing the heavenly origin of the hexagram

In the present time, the Hexagram is promoted and commonly is known as the "Star of David," but David has nothing to do with this symbol! The Jewish king Solomon used this symbol as a seal only. The Jewish started using the Hexagram as an official symbol very late in time - since 1648 in Prague. Later the Rothschild adapted it, and finally, the Zionists adapted the hexagram as their official symbol in 1899. Currently, it appears on the Jewish flag. - The Jews are commonly attracted to items with value. Even the shops selling gold are named as (JEWelery) shops. They are in possession of the finances of the World, controlling the Share Market, the Gold and Diamond trade, and even taking as their own - the most valuable symbol of the World - the Hexagram! Will be good to know that the origin of Hexagram is coming from the deepest history and has nothing to do with the Jews! They are free to adapt and use this symbol, but they have to know its real origin and meaning and not claim that it is just the star of David with an empty center! - The Hexagram without a center is a body without a soul and heart. We must keep and preserve its original form and meaning which contain seven elements - six space dimensions and the matter - it is the symbol of the Universe! - Universe filled with life, not an empty Universe! It is important to know that Hexagram belongs to all humanity! - It is given to us for a special reason! We have to realize that the Hexagram is an unmistakable and simple geometrical diagram of the Universe. It can be created only of intelligence with advanced knowledge of the Universe! Even in the present time, we still do not possess such knowledge. Thanks to the new theory, we are just opening the window of the real knowledge of the Universe!

Such enormous blocks cannot be lifted by manpower and wooden sticks

Such complex shape and precision cannot be achieved without laser cutting and computer

Granite cannot be cut without hardened steel tools and diamonds

The ancient advanced megalithic structures, including enormous perfectly cut granite blocks, which cannot be cut with bronze tools. The complexity of forms and precision cutting of these megalithic structures cannot be achieved without diamond tip tools and computers. We didn't find any steel tools, and the logic is pointing again to the fact that extraterrestrial visitors cannot carry stone-cutting machines, but they will have possessed lasers and will be able to use antigravity to move these enormous blocks over big distances. The sudden appearance of agriculture, irrigation, and advanced celestial knowledge of the invisible planets of the Solar system cannot be explained any other way than this knowledge has been given to us.

On the carving are visible the known nine planets of the Solar system. This obviously is given knowledge, because to know this, you need to have powerful telescopes

Such complex parallel advances in knowledge, capability, and social organization cannot be the achievement of primitive hunter-gatherers. If the logic is pointing in this direction, we don't have to be afraid to recognize, that all those sudden explosions of craft, technology, knowledge, and organized societies, in combination with the appearance of the secret religious symbol of Hexagram, can be explained only with interference, and temporary presence of extra-terrestrial visitors. The Hexagram has been left for us - (the future generations) from the visitors of another advanced civilization as confirmation, that they have been here in recent history and have been all around the World. They teach the early humans how to do agriculture, how to carve and cut stones, how to make irrigations, and how to live in peace and harmony. The visitors from another star have found the emerging human civilization in a very primitive stage, and they have done as much as possible to kick-start one more ethical intelligent, and humane society. They have given us as much knowledge as we have been able to absorb, understand, and use. Knowing, that "They" cannot stay for longer, and probably they will never be able to return, ET has left a message to us - a simple message, which we will be able to understand as soon as we obtain the basic understanding of the World. In the time, when we had no writings, no numbers, or any understanding of the World, "They" has no any other way than to live here a message for the future generations - a message as a simple drawing of the Universe with specific instruction to the ancient people - this symbol to be preserved as something very, very important! They knew, and hoped, that one day we will become more smarter and knowledgeable and will start asking the question: Are we alone in the Universe? And if the answer is that we are not alone, where the others are? Why is the Universe silent? - This "simple" symbol has deep meaning and purpose and will explain to us a load! It is our lifeline! This simple drawing is giving us the knowledge that we are not alone in the Universe! This drawing tells us that space traveling is not a myth, but it is a reality! With this symbol, "They" have left a simple message to us: "We are intelligent. We have been here. When you are ready, just contact us!" They have left this message with the hope that when we realize, that we are not alone, we will start asking ourselves: why, and what is the reason the other intelligent societies do not revile themselves and is not responding to our messages? "They" was hoping, that we will become smart enough and will be able to understand the simple logic and the real meaning of the message:

That they have been here and were teaching us how to live in peace and harmony. They remind us again that cruel, corrupt, and destructive civilizations are not welcome in the United Intelligent Society of the Universe. Even the first interstellar object - "Oumuamua" which recently passed through the solar system has all the features and behavior to be a spaceship - elongated shape, not emitting or absorbing anything, and on the way out it changes direction and accelerates. (It was silent too!)

"They" have been hoping that we will be able to realize, that the Universe is based on unbreakable principles and ethics, and if we would like to continue our journey, we have to start to obey those principles.

It is obvious that we still are not ready to be contacted, but the clock of our destiny is ticking! Can we be able to qualify before our clock stops ticking?

The symbol of the Universe and the stars around

The eco from the past

This is not a fully fact-based continuation of the article. It is based on the available facts, but there are some grey areas where we do not have enough knowledge, and I cannot insist, that the logical outcome will be absolutely correct, because is based on a few mystical elements of our past. The time of the great biblical flood is a time of great global cataclysm, and of drastically changing state of knowledge and organization of the human society. In the time of 9,600 BC allegedly the great civilization of Atlantis ceased to exist. There is megalithic archaeological evidence that the pre-flood societies have been much more advanced in some aspects even than the present-day technology. For example, the visible signs of stone cutting and drilling tools show technology, unsurpassed in present days - the rate of cutting granite and basalt is 2mm - 2.5mm per cut or drill revolution. In the present time, with diamond tip tools, we can achieve a maximum of 1/10mm deep cut. An unbelievable amount of enormous stone blocks weighing hundreds of tonnes have been cut, transported, and erected many hundreds of kilometers away from the quarry. And this happened despite, the human civilization has been relatively primitive, and not possessing even steel tools. Something really, really is not adding up in this story! It looks like somebody very powerful and knowledgeable has helped these pre-flood civilizations to build these structures.

In addition to this, we have very disturbing evidence for the existence of an enormous human population and activities such as agriculture and gold mining in Africa. I have stated as "disturbing" evidence, because they are all over the African continent, and are according to Michael Tellinger about 10 million stone sites. The dating of them is in the period of 250,000 BC to the time of the great Earth cataclysm 9,600 years BC. The archaeological structures are stone circles connected by roads and stone channels. There is a vast amount of evidence in the form of agricultural terraces. To build such an enormous stone network, the African population must be in the vicinity of 100 million! The puzzling aspect of the stone structures is that every one of them has a unique form and shape. They do not have entry passages or doors. That means that those structures are not animal enclosures or human living spaces. The other puzzling element is that these stone circles are located in areas rich in gold, and there are many ancient mining shafts and signs of excessive gold mining. Unfortunately, the existence of all those amassing structures is hidden from the public, not studied or excavated. Thanks to Michael Tellinger who dedicated many years to studying them and to bringing the knowledge of them to the World. His view is that these structures have been resonance amplifiers, using the Earth's power for their activity. If he is correct, this is a high technology, which could not be invented by the ancient people but was given to them with the aim of this power being used for efficient gold mining. Michael's opinion is that this is a sign of enslavement of the Earth's population from Extraterrestrial visitors, who are obsessed with Gold.

I believe that his claims reveal unexpected hidden truths, but there are not any serious excavations, and we do not have evidence for sophisticated mining and well-organized advanced civilization.

The next puzzle is the sudden disappearance of this enormous society and its masters. There is undeniable evidence of a great Global cataclysm in the time of 9,600 BC. There are seashells and fossilized fish on the top of hills and mountains. The vast area of the Libyan desert is covered with melted glass crystals. This is completing the picture of the catastrophe, which is asteroid bombardment in a combination of supergalactic electrical discharges, and the great flood. Evidence of this is the megalithic rock shelters, which the surviving hunter-gatherer immediately after the great flood has to build all around the Earth. The typical of these shelters is that they are open and do not provide shelter from the elements, but always the roof is solid and provides shelter from anything coming from the sky. All those facts are putting a big question mark on our real knowledge of the human past. Can we put together the facts and find a logical explanation for this puzzle?

Let consider this scenario, because this is one vital clue, which we have discussed in the article above.

We don't have to ignore the ancient written and religious texts, which is informing us of the presence of "Gods," which have descended from the sky. They have help people to learn and build, to do agriculture, and mainly teaching us on ethics and ethical standard and how to organizing our society and our life. So... if the written texts are based on facts, what could happen and what went wrong that the effort of the "Gods" to get in vain?

The first possibility, that we have to consider is preserving the ancient written records and religious scripts which state, that humans become too arrogant, too greedy, and cruel. They start to disobey the instructions of the Gods and start fighting with each other. This human behavior has angered the Gods. They have lost faith in us and have destroyed the corrupt societies and left the Earth. This scenario is very logical and could be absolutely correct. However, there are a few unanswered questions that remain with this scenario. The "Gods" if needed could wipe out the very easy and elegant way, but the truth is much different! The facts point out that the Earth catastrophe of 9,600 BC has been the result of major galactic activity, asteroid bombardment, and extreme electromagnetic storms. It looks like a scenario, where not the "Gods" but the Universe is getting angry and projecting its power of destruction on the "Gods," their activity, and their puppets. After this catastrophic event, we are observing the immediate seizing of all megalithic building activities, and technology, and the disappearance of these "Gods," which have "descended from the sky and live among us." Why? What had happened, and what the reason is? First, we have to realize that as more civilized is the society, the more people are losing their skills to survive in the elements of nature. The fact, that after the Great Catastrophe all civilized societies have disappeared, but the hunter-gutters have survived is very logical, because hunter-gutters are masters of survival in the elements. Also in this period, all mega-fauna has disappeared, but the smaller species, capable of finding shelter underground have survived.

There is a logical, but slightly hypothetical answer for the explanation of this event. It is well-known for the people with knowledge in Physics and Astrophysics that the Universe is built on unchangeable ethical principles, which all advanced civilizations must obey in order to co-exist! In this social order, there is an embedded fundamental principle of non-interference, which assures the development of unique quality and diversity of the emerging intelligent societies free of intervention. By coming on Earth this advanced and intelligent society, which we have regard as the ("Gods" descending from the sky) "They" has greatly violated the rule and order of the Universe. The fact that they possessed correct knowledge of the Universe, mastered the fast interstellar traveling, and taught us ethical principles, puts them well above us in the classification of intelligence and knowledge, but just advanced knowledge is not enough to be accepted in the United Advanced Civilized Society of the Universe! - It is logical that full compliance with the ethical standard is the most crucial factor for acceptance in Society.

The fact that this intelligent society (The "Gods") has come onto Earth and started interfering with our life and our social order and knowledge, and probably using us for mining explains that they have not been advanced enough and have not possessed the ethical quality to be part of the United Advanced Civilized Society of Universe - (UACSOU).

One day the Universe gets angry and unleashes its fury upon the "Gods," their puppets, and their creations. Everything they have built was destroyed and disappeared beneath the water! Humanity has suffered one of the biggest catastrophes in its history.

It looks like the "Gods" got the "Message" and quickly left the Earth. The only sign they left behind is the message to us in the form of a secret diagram of the Universe - the Hexagram. They have learned to obey the rules and principles of the Universe! Now it is our time! - Can we?

The ancient stone circle structures and agricultural terraces of Africa

The ancient African stone circles

There have been two obelisks in the front of the temple, but the European has stolen one

Anybody, who understands electricity will know the practical purpose of the Obelisks – They are simple protection from thunderbolts or powerful cosmic electromagnetic discharges. The golden top of the "Needle of Cleopatra" is the same thing that we are doing to protect our building's from thunderbolts - grounded gold-plated metal points on top of buildings.

This is melted steps in an ancient Egyptian Temple. It is obvious that the enormous heat capable of melting the stone comes from the narrow window. Such intensive radiation heat can come only from Nuclear explosions or extremely powerful cosmic radiation. The fact that the floor is melted points that the energy source has been high in the sky.

These shelters cannot provide protection from the weather or aggressive enemies –
The reason for such effort to build them is absolutely different – the sky!

These ancient stone shelters are not good protection from the weather but are excellent for sky bombardment

This is a clear sign that the treat is coming from above.

It cannot be an accident that the most solid block is the one on the top. This explains why 12,000 years ago
The megafauna has been extinct, but some human tribes managed to survive.
These stone shelters are many thousands and are scattered all around the Earth. If the ancient hunter-gatherers hadn't been in mortal danger, they will never put such effort to build such useless structures.

This is an ancient stone shelter capable of providing shelter from Sky bombardment and Electromagnetic discharges.

Looks like the ancient have found that only well-grounded rocks can provide shelter from billion volts of cosmic electromagnetic discharges and act as a "Faraday Cage". Our ancestors have been intelligent and inventive, and this is the reason why we are still here!
